Description
From Stripe:
Thank you for using Stripe! While reviewing your website we had difficulty locating the following website elements:
A disclosure at checkout that payments made through your site are secure
The brand logos of the credit cards you accept
Some of these things are especially important to have when it comes to reducing the risk of disputes and customer confusion. We encourage you to give our guide of best practices for your website a read and to add these missing elements that your customers may be expecting to find to your website.
